Allan Pease

Allan Pease

He is the author of, Why Men Don't Listen and Women Can't Read Maps, one of 10 important books on relationships and communication in this century. This book has been translated into 60 different languages, and sold more than 11 million copies.

He is the foremost expert in body language techniques in negotiation. He is truly a leading expert in methods and techniques for judging characters and teaching the art of negotiation.

He has had speaking events in presence of Tony Blair and Jack Chirac. Some of his books include Questions are the Answers, Why Men Don't Have A Clue & Women Always Need More Shoes, The Definitive Book of Body Language, Easy Peasy: People Skills For Life.

His works have been broadcast in 6 television networks, including BBC, Discovery and National Geographic and more than 400 million people have watched his speeches and read findings of his research.

He is a member of American Management Association and has published many articles in major journals of the world.

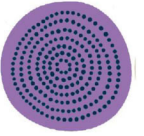

Kevin Gaskell

Kevin Gaskell is truly a management marvel. He is the only global personality that has managed three major global brands Porsche, BMW, and Lamborghini. Kevin was appointed as the Managing Director of Porsche in 1987 and in 4 years he rebuilt the brand and turned a business close to bankruptcy into the Europe's most profitable car company.

After his remarkable success in Porsche, he moved to BMW as Managing Director where he led the company to 4 years of record growth and 40% increase in sales.

After receiving substantial financial offer, he accepted to be CEO of EurotaxGlass's, the largest databank software for auto trade with branches in 30 countries.

In 2006, he led a team of mountaineers climbed Mount Everest. He has walked to both the North and South Poles and climbed some of the world's highest mountain, including Kilimanjaro in -47 degree Celsius.
